

Vitamin D3 drops

The sunshine vitamin in a new disguise

Vitamin D3 - also now available in a practical liquid form to take as drops

Our vitamin D3, proven for many years, is now available in a practical liquid form, making them even easier to take. As a single drop already contains the recommended daily dosage of 25 µg (= 1000 I.U.), taking multiple drops is a thing of the past. Thanks to their sunflower oil content, Biogena Vitamin D3 Tropfen have a pleasantly neutral taste and do not contain medium-chain triglycerides from palm oil. The simple complete package makes it easy to take this essential vitamin, which supports the maintenance of the bones and immune system, as well as normal muscle function. The weak solar radiation in autumn and winter reduces the formation of endogenous vitamin D, which is why targeted intake in the form of a micronutrient preparation is considered sensible. For this reason: Biogena Vitamin D3 Tropfen – so that you too can guarantee your supply of the sunshine vitamin D3.
